I preach that you shouldn't SELL on safelists, but I've always had the opinion that, like Facebook Marketplace, people go to classified ad sites to BUY STUFF. Unlike email marketing, these ads can be SEARCHED for the products or promotions, and filtered by category.

Of course if you are promoting a business opportunity, MLM, or high competition offer, smart money would be to use a capture page.

Boost your online business with a blog. Here's why you need one!

1. Drive Organic Traffic: Frequent blog posts propel search engines like Google to crawl and index your website, keeping you on top of their hit list. A significant way to rise higher in search engine rankings, increasing chances of your discovery by prospective customers, is posting unique, keyword-rich content around your products or services. A focused blog attracts target audience and gets your site popular due to its finer indexing capability. This forms the basis of niche marketing.

2. More Popularity Equals More Traffic: When your blog gains popularity from improved page rankings, your traffic rushes in. Increased web traffic signifies a greater audience for your products, services, and offers. Treat your blog like a marketing haven.

Integrate order links in product review blogs, or display ads for your goods/services or use programs like Google Ad Sense. Monetizing your blog like this earns you revenue every time those ads are clicked. Moreover, partner with YouTube to include their videos on your blog and earn each time a video gets played.

Speed-boosting tips for blog content that accelerates indexing, ranking, and traffic:

- Update keyword-rich unique content frequently
- Post about time-sensitive issues for accelerated scanning
- Opt for descriptive titles housing your main keywords
- Post as often as possible – daily, if feasible
- Leverage Google Ads and YouTube videos for enhanced Google visibility
- Fast-track scanning by posting reviews and interviews
- Embed links to Social Media for easy sharing of your blog posts

So what does it mean to be "keyword-heavy"?

You land on the right keyword when that's what your customer would type into Google to seek your offering. Incorporate these keywords naturally within your blog content, avoiding repetitive usage.

Confused about the ideal keywords?

Punch them into Google and check the search results. Are these where you'd like to see your site listed? What keywords are your competitors using? Review their site to decide. Or, set up an Ad Words account with Google to generate keyword insights – no need to subscribe to their paid advertising program!
